

We listen to K-Love in Oklahoma City and are against allowing LPFM stations priority over current translator services. K-Love serves the OKC community by providing family oriented Christian radio which is otherwise not available. It also provides information about community activities that are "safe" for our children, resources available to those in need, and opportunities to serve the OKC area and United States through prayer, hands on activities, and financial support. If K-Love were displaced by an LPFM station, the OKC area would lose a powerful and popular ministry. That would be a shame in today's ever more liberal media.
